Oncology: Specialty Case Management

Patient Management Systems to Extend Life and Lower Medical Costs

A Different Approach

American Health Holding understands that behind every claim there is a person, a family, and a support network looking for guidance to effectively deal with the short- and long-term impact of cancer. Our Oncology specialists offer a different approach to patient care, ongoing support, and service to our clients. Unlike other providers, we engage with all key participants as early as possible following diagnosis to assist in the following areas:

- Education
- Preparation and planning
- Ensuring that care is provided at an appropriate facility
- Identification of support groups and systems
- Minimization of complications through health management
- Follow-up and reporting

A Solution for Life

Assisting the patient in coping with the disease and learning how to be a survivor extends far beyond the initial diagnosis and early treatment. In order to serve the long-term needs of the patient, we maintain a dedicated group of professionals who understand and work closely with the medical team through the entire treatment process.

Program Highlights

- A comprehensive approach to patient-focused support and life management, placing patient needs above treatment requirements.
- Dedicated Oncology Case Managers to interact with patients and family, offering a complete support network.
- Experienced and knowledgeable Medical Oncology Consultants to aid in diagnosis and treatment assessment.
- Extensive patient education and support to achieve and maintain a healthier lifestyle, thereby reducing future medical costs.
- By creating healthier patients, we have a positive impact on claims dollars.

Other benefits and services include:

- Emotional support
- Ongoing education
- Development of support systems
- Medical history
- Lifestyle changes and behavior modifications
- Financial options
